Step 4b: Narrative of Interpretation

In reviewing the utilization analysis report it shows that we are under utilized by more than 2 standard deviations on white females in the category of Sworn Patrol Officers in the Protective services Division. We have been recruiting on Facebook and other social media outlets that have been shown to be more frequented by females. 2 of the last 6 officers hired were Female, 1 white and one African-American. Women have been historically under-represented at peace officer training schools and historically the majority of the civil service applicants are male. On the previous EEOP we were underutilized in white male clerks. As of this report, we have rectified that representation. However, our white female officers, patrol and brass are now the under represented categories. The best known reason for the drop in female administrators, sworn is due to retirements and resignations. The country as a whole is seeing the attrition of peace officers due to the current climate around law enforcement. Officers are leaving the force for higher paying, less visible, positions outside of law enforcement.
We have no real control over promotions as they follow civil service testing and is already fair and equitable. We can encourage our female officers to strive for advancement and brainstorm ideas as to helping them succeed in the testing process.
A change in the advancement process will be the exploring of utilizing assessment centers for the top performers on the written exams for promotion. We will spend more money and put more resources on minority recruitment and targeting qualified students at our local police academies.

Step 5: Objectives and Steps

1. Identify barriers in recruitment that possibly deter white females from applying to a sworn officer position.

a. YPD Internal affairs will continue to work with civil service on an aggressive outreach, specifically geared towards females. Since 2013, YPD Internal Affairs Division has worked with the Civil Service division on an aggressive recruitment/outreach campaign to attract more individuals to take the civil service exam. Ongoing recruitment will be continued with brochures and posters being distributed to various organizations such as YPD Chaplains Corp, community members, career fairs, job recruitment centers, online employment sites, Facebook, local talk radio, colleges and high schools.
b. YPD is one of the few departments that is willing to pay for Ohio Peace Officers Training Academy to remove this obstacle as a deterrent for some to apply. There potential applicants will get the required training and certification to be a police officer.
c. Continue to use and analyze applicant surveys given to all civil service applicants which asks how they learned of the position/exam.
2. Identify possible obstacles during recruitment that may deter white female sworn patrol officers from taking and passing promotional exams.
a. Spend more money and resources on minority recruitment, mainly females.
b. Explore utilization of assessment center to look at the top 3 or 4 performers on written promotion exams to aid in mitigating test taking anxiety poor performance.

Step 6: Internal Dissemination

1. The police department will give a hard copy of the EEOP Utilization Report to the City of Youngstown Human Relations Department, the Civil Service Commission, the Law Department, all labor union officials and the recruitment team of the police department.
2. The Chief of Police will issue a General Memorandum to all unit commanders of the Police Department to inform all those under their command of the availability of the current EEOP Utilization Report on the city's website in order for it to be reviewed on the internet internally.

Step 7: External Dissemination

1. The EEOP Utilization Report will be posted on the City's website: www.cityofyoungstownoh.com
2. The city will notify applicants, vendors, and contractors in writing that the Police Department has developed an EEOP Utilization Report and that it is available on request, for review.
